The Early School Success Academy is not like most professional development you may have experienced!

In these sessions, you will work as a district team to build a strong early learning system in your community. During the Academy, you will plan changes in your school system alongside other teams working to address similar issues. The Early School Success Academy is a blend of facilitated team planning and professional development for early learning (PK-3) educators and partners.

Who

District or school teams, including a designated team lead responsible for coordinating the work with the ESS Academy coaches. Other members may include principals, preschool and elementary teachers, early learning coaches, equity coaches, curriculum directors, early learning coordinators, counselors, dual language teachers, special education teachers, and community partners. We strongly believe in and encourage teams to have a range of diverse perspectives.

reflections on the experience

I used to think...

we would never get to a place where the K-12 and early learning communities would truly come together.

Now I think...

I feel like it is absolutely a possibility!

I appreciate...

being included in the Early Learning Academy and having the opportunity to connect with other programs.

Because...

the diversity of perspectives
leads to richer learning for all!

I appreciate...

being part of the Early Learning Academy.

Because...

I was able to make new connections with other districts and learn about resources that equipped me
to better support families.

I used to think...
there were small efforts to support
early learning.

Now I think...

there are large, informed & influential changemakers elevating this important work!

I appreciate...

the work of the districts who are ahead of us, blazing the trail, and testing solutions.

Because...

we are able to learn so much from them! And inspired to support others joining the movement.

I appreciate...

the amazing opportunity to network
and learn from each other, team members and other visionaries
across the state of Oregon.
